A Message from the Principal

To our Eastover Elementary School families:

This is the first School Progress Report for Eastover Elementary, part of our effort to keep families fully informed about our students' academic progress, our staff and our school environment.

As you will see, Eastover had a composite proficiency rate on the state End-of-Grade math test of 73.7 percent at or above grade level. On the fourth-grade state writing test, we had a composite proficiency rate of 74.3 percent of students scoring at or above grade level.

The state introduced a new reading test in 2007-2008. As a result of more rigorous expectations, reading scores declined across the state, including in CMS. Since the new test covers different material from that covered in the previous test, direct year-over-year comparisons are not necessarily accurate.

We did not make Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP), the standard set for schools by the No Child Left Behind Act. Based on our diverse student population, we have many targets to meet for AYP—19 in all—and we met 14 of them. There is still room for improvement in meeting our targets, but we are proud of the strides our students have made in math and writing over the previous school year.

So what are we doing to improve our students' academic progress? We are continuing implementation of the Intensive Reading program for students in grades K-3. In addition, we are providing differentiated instruction, a flexible teaching approach that adapts

CMS Accountability Measures

In this section, we are highlighting several key performance indicators for our school and its students.

► Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP)

Our school DID NOT make AYP
(14 of 19 goals met)

The federal No Child Left Behind Act requires that every school make Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP). State test results are used to set AYP proficiency targets for every grade. Targets are set for the school as a whole, as well as for nine separate subgroups. The subgroups are: white, black, Hispanic, Native American, Asian, multiracial, economically disadvantaged students, students with limited English proficiency and students with disabilities. A school's attendance and graduation rates are also measured for AYP.

The subgroup measurements are intended to prevent an overall score from masking poor results by one or more subgroups. Because the number of subgroups can vary depending on a school's diversity, the number of targets varies also. Some schools may have only a few targets to meet; others may have as many as 41.

AYP is an all-or-nothing standard that says every target must be met. No Child Left Behind also requires that every student be proficient by the 2013-2014 school year.

For a more complete overview of AYP, visit www.dpi.state.nc.us/nclb/abcayp/overview/ayp

► ABC Designation

Our school's designation: School of Progress
(DID meet growth expectations)

Proficiency: 74.7%

The North Carolina ABCs program was introduced more than a decade ago to better target school improvement efforts. Two basic measures determine a school's designation: the Average Growth of students (at right); and the Performance Composite, which measures how well students performed against a set standard of proficiency.

Schools are given one of seven designations (in descending order): Honor School of Excellence; School of Excellence; School of Distinction; School of Progress; No Recognition; Priority School; Low Performing.

For more information about ABCs, visit <http://abcs.ncpublicschools.org/abcs>

► Average Growth

State Standard: 80%
Our School: 83.7%

Each year, the state sets individual growth expectations for each student. A student is expected to perform as well, or better, on the End-of-Grade (EOG) assessment for the current year as he or she did, on average, during the previous two years. The Average Growth is calculated by comparing actual performance versus expected performance and then averaging the difference across all students and all subjects. The score above reflects the combined growth rate of all of our students. A school classified as making expected growth would have a score of 80% or higher.

► Students Making or Exceeding a Year's Worth of Growth

State Standard: 60%
Our School: 64.2%

This measurement assesses whether students have learned as much as they are expected to learn in one year. Expectations are set for each student based on individual performance for the previous two years. Across the state, about half of students typically meet or exceed their growth expectation. High growth is defined as a score of 60% or higher and having met expected growth.

► Amount of Growth for Students in the Lowest Achieving Group

Our School: 75.3%

Narrowing the achievement gap is widely recognized as one of the biggest challenges in public education. The lowest achieving group for CMS includes certain minority groups and those receiving free or reduced-price lunch. If lower-achieving students grow at a faster rate than better-achieving students, the achievement gap is narrowed. When the above percentage is higher than the Average Growth for the school (see Average Growth above), the school is closing the achievement gap.

► Positive Responses to Student Surveys

Our School: 86.8%

Student feedback is a subjective, but essential, component of the measure of our school's performance. We want all of our students to have a caring, supportive environment at school. This is a measure of the positive reaction from our students covering the areas of school safety, engagement and encouragement.

the curriculum to individual learning needs. We are also using data to help identify if, and how much, a student is learning.

Our faculty is strong, with all of our teachers being highly qualified. We are fortunate to have the expertise needed to meet the needs of our diverse learners and are committed to raising student achievement to meet 21st-century standards. To help meet this goal, we will offer an End-of-Grade blitz toward the end of each semester, where our teachers provide after-school tutoring to help students master reading, math and writing.

At Eastover, we have very low staff turnover. This dedicated teacher base provides strong mentoring for new staff members and encourages students to meet our high expectations for them. We are able to retain talented faculty and staff because Eastover is a successful elementary school that values the needs of staff and students.

I am confident that we will continue to see improvement in student achievement. Eastover has a supportive, nurturing and orderly environment in which students and teachers treat each other with respect.

At Eastover, we are keeping children first—and that means we are focused on student learning, strong teaching and rising achievement.

Sincerely,
Vanessa Ashford

What is the School Progress Report?

In 2006, we introduced the Charlotte-Mecklenburg Schools Strategic Plan 2010 outlining our vision and strategy to educate our students to compete locally, nationally and internationally.

The plan outlines seven areas of concentration: high academic achievement; effective educators; adequate resources and facilities; safe and orderly schools; freedom and flexibility with accountability; world-class service, and strong parent and community connections.

In this report, you will notice how our school performed in the 2007-2008 school year compared to the stated 2010 goals. On page 3, you will also find an explanation of federal and state accountability measures with a specific emphasis on growth.

As educators and parents, we have a common goal of preparing our children to compete in an ever-growing global community. This goal requires constant dialogue between school and parents, so please feel free to contact the principal or any staff member at our school with your questions, concerns or suggestions.
