

Huntingtowne Farms Elementary School

A Message from the Principal

Dear Huntingtowne Farms Elementary School families:

This is the first annual School Progress Report for Huntingtowne Farms Elementary, part of our effort to keep families fully informed about our students' academic progress, our staff and our school environment.

We had a very successful school year. Our composite proficiency rate on the state End-of-Grade test was 64.7 percent in math for third through fifth grades. Compared to results from the previous year, that shows growth of 10.6 percent. Fourth-grade students ended the year with 51.5 percent scoring at or above grade level in writing, an increase of 10.5 percent from 2006-2007.

The state introduced a new reading test in 2007-2008. As a result of more rigorous expectations, reading scores declined across the state, including in CMS. Since the new test covers different material from that covered in the previous test, direct year-over-year comparisons are not necessarily accurate.

Huntingtowne Farms did not make Adequate Yearly Progress, the standard set for schools by the No Child Left Behind Act. We did, however, meet 20 of our 21 targets.

Our goal this year is a more individualized focus on students to ensure academic growth in all areas of the curriculum by working as a professional learning community. We have organized into collaborative teams whose members work interdependently to achieve common goals. By working together in this way, we focus on three critical questions: What is it we expect all students to learn? How will we know when they have learned it? How will we respond when they do not?

Math and literacy facilitators will work with teams of teachers to review test data and assist with developing differentiated instruction.

CMS Accountability Measures

In this section, we are highlighting several key performance indicators for our school and its students.

► Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP)

Our school DID NOT make AYP
(20 of 21 goals met)

The federal No Child Left Behind Act requires that every school make Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP). State test results are used to set AYP proficiency targets for every grade. Targets are set for the school as a whole, as well as for nine separate subgroups. The subgroups are: white, black, Hispanic, Native American, Asian, multiracial, economically disadvantaged students, students with limited English proficiency and students with disabilities. A school's attendance and graduation rates are also measured for AYP.

The subgroup measurements are intended to prevent an overall score from masking poor results by one or more subgroups. Because the number of subgroups can vary depending on a school's diversity, the number of targets varies also. Some schools may have only a few targets to meet; others may have as many as 41.

AYP is an all-or-nothing standard that says every target must be met. No Child Left Behind also requires that every student be proficient by the 2013-2014 school year.

For a more complete overview of AYP, visit www.dpi.state.nc.us/nclb/abcayp/overview/ayp

For details of AYP results for our school and its student groups, visit <http://ayp.ncpublicschools.org>

► ABC Designation

Our school's designation: Priority School
(DID meet growth expectations)

Proficiency: 55.2%

The North Carolina ABCs program was introduced more than a decade ago to better target school improvement efforts. Two basic measures determine a school's designation: the Average Growth of students (at right); and the Performance Composite, which measures how well students performed against a set standard of proficiency.

Schools are given one of seven designations (in descending order): Honor School of Excellence; School of Excellence; School of Distinction; School of Progress; No Recognition; Priority School; Low Performing.

For more information about ABCs, visit <http://abcs.ncpublicschools.org/abcs>

► Average Growth

State Standard: 80%
Our School: 82.9%

Each year, the state sets individual growth expectations for each student. A student is expected to perform as well, or better, on the End-of-Grade (EOG) assessment for the current year as he or she did, on average, during the previous two years. The Average Growth is calculated by comparing actual performance versus expected performance and then averaging the difference across all students and all subjects. The score above reflects the combined growth rate of all of our students. A school classified as making expected growth would have a score of 80% or higher.

► Students Making or Exceeding a Year's Worth of Growth

State Standard: 60%
Our School: 61.5%

This measurement assesses whether students have learned as much as they are expected to learn in one year. Expectations are set for each student based on individual performance for the previous two years. Across the state, about half of students typically meet or exceed their growth expectation. High growth is defined as a score of 60% or higher and having met expected growth.

► Amount of Growth for Students in the Lowest Achieving Group

Our School: 80.6%

Narrowing the achievement gap is widely recognized as one of the biggest challenges in public education. The lowest achieving group for CMS includes certain minority groups and those receiving free or reduced-price lunch. If lower-achieving students grow at a faster rate than better-achieving students, the achievement gap is narrowed. When the above percentage is higher than the Average Growth for the school (see Average Growth above), the school is closing the achievement gap.

► Positive Responses to Student Surveys

Our School: 80.9%

Student feedback is a subjective, but essential, component of the measure of our school's performance. We want all of our students to have a caring, supportive environment at school. This is a measure of the positive reaction from our students covering the areas of school safety, engagement and encouragement.

▶ Huntingtowne Farms Elementary School

This is a form of teaching that adapts the curriculum to individual learning needs and provides research-based intervention strategies for struggling students, as well as for those working well above grade level.

The school's International Baccalaureate (IB) magnet coordinator will continue to work with teachers to ensure that the curriculum and our IB Primary Years Programme jointly support student achievement. We encourage our children to be knowledgeable, responsible, internationally minded citizens who respect the variety of cultures and attitudes of our diverse world. The IB Programme provides a broad and challenging education. It enables students to develop important academic skills, an international perspective and a commitment to their community.

We have more than 50 volunteers who work each week with students one-on-one and in small groups to support academics.

The staff at Huntingtowne Farms has high, yet achievable expectations for all students. The staff at our school works together as a team, and we take collective ownership of all students. We hold each other accountable for providing a safe, nurturing, high-quality learning environment that yields positive results by continuously stimulating our students' interest in learning.

Our students work individually in both small and large groups to discuss topics, discover solutions, read for information, investigate problems and complete research. As an International Baccalaureate Primary Years Programme magnet, we develop students who are balanced and confident about their ability to succeed.

Sincerely,
Pamela Frederick
Principal

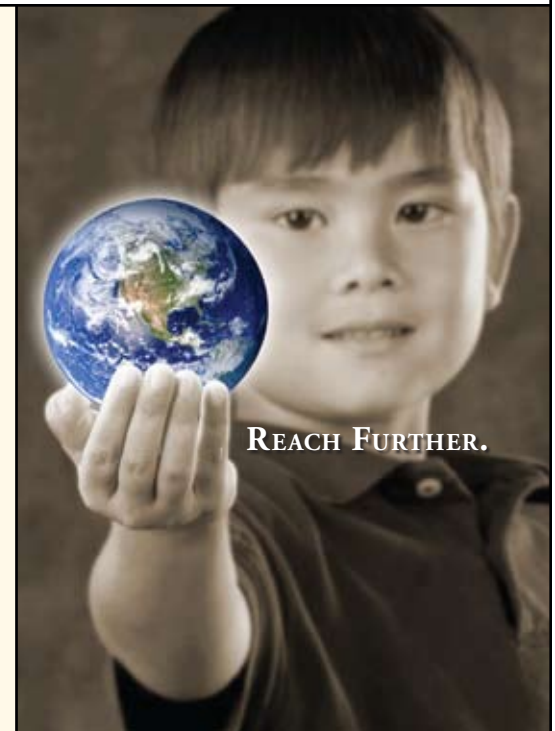

What is the School Progress Report?

In 2006, we introduced the Charlotte-Mecklenburg Schools Strategic Plan 2010 outlining our vision and strategy to educate our students to compete locally, nationally and internationally.

The plan outlines seven areas of concentration: high academic achievement; effective educators; adequate resources and facilities; safe and orderly schools; freedom and flexibility with accountability; world-class service, and strong parent and community connections.

In this report, you will notice how our school performed in the 2007-2008 school year compared to the stated 2010 goals. On page 3, you will also find an explanation of federal and state accountability measures with a specific emphasis on growth.

As educators and parents, we have a common goal of preparing our children to compete in an ever-growing global community. This goal requires constant dialogue between school and parents, so please feel free to contact the principal or any staff member at our school with your questions, concerns or suggestions.
