A Message from the Principal

To our McClintock Middle School families:

In this first School Progress Report for McClintock Middle, we are extremely proud to share the outstanding progress of our students in the last school year. We are also pleased to tell you about the exciting initiatives and community engagement that have supported that achievement. We are determined to see every one of our students equipped with the skills, knowledge and confidence they will need to be successful.

In 2007-2008, we find that 54.6 percent of our students were at or above grade level. This is a 16.7 percent increase over the previous year. More than 97 percent of our gifted students scored at or above grade level. In algebra, 97 percent of our students were at or above grade level; in geometry, 100 percent were.

The state introduced a new reading test in 2007-2008. As a result of more rigorous expectations, reading scores declined across the state, including in CMS. Since the new test covers different material from that covered in the previous test, direct year-over-year comparisons are not necessarily accurate.

Overall, our students demonstrated High Growth on the state tests. We made 90 percent (26 of 29) of our Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP) goals. AYP is the standard set for schools by the No Child Left Behind Act.

We are working to reduce the achievement gap at our school and made remarkable progress last year thanks to the dedication, commitment and determination of our teachers and support staff. Our goal is continuing improvement.

CMS Accountability Measures

In this section, we are highlighting several key performance indicators for our school and its students.

► Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP)

Our school DID NOT make AYP
(26 of 29 goals met)

The federal No Child Left Behind Act requires that every school make Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP). State test results are used to set AYP proficiency targets for every grade. Targets are set for the school as a whole, as well as for nine separate subgroups. The subgroups are: white, black, Hispanic, Native American, Asian, multiracial, economically disadvantaged students, students with limited English proficiency and students with disabilities. A school's attendance and graduation rates are also measured for AYP.

The subgroup measurements are intended to prevent an overall score from masking poor results by one or more subgroups. Because the number of subgroups can vary depending on a school's diversity, the number of targets varies also. Some schools may have only a few targets to meet; others may have as many as 41.

AYP is an all-or-nothing standard that says every target must be met. No Child Left Behind also requires that every student be proficient by the 2013-2014 school year.

For a more complete overview of AYP, visit www.dpi.state.nc.us/nclb/abcayp/overview/ayp

► ABC Designation

Our school's designation: Priority School
(DID meet growth expectations)

Proficiency: 54.6%

The North Carolina ABCs program was introduced more than a decade ago to better target school improvement efforts. Two basic measures determine a school's designation: the Average Growth of students (at right); and the Performance Composite, which measures how well students performed against a set standard of proficiency.

Schools are given one of seven designations (in descending order): Honor School of Excellence; School of Excellence; School of Distinction; School of Progress; No Recognition; Priority School; Low Performing.

For more information about ABCs, visit <http://abcs.ncpublicschools.org/abcs>

► Average Growth

State Standard: 80%
Our School: 84.6%

Each year, the state sets individual growth expectations for each student. A student is expected to perform as well, or better, on the End-of-Grade (EOG) assessment for the current year as he or she did, on average, during the previous two years. The Average Growth is calculated by comparing actual performance versus expected performance and then averaging the difference across all students and all subjects. The score above reflects the combined growth rate of all of our students. A school classified as making expected growth would have a score of 80% or higher.

► Students Making or Exceeding a Year's Worth of Growth

State Standard: 60%
Our School: 69.2%

This measurement assesses whether students have learned as much as they are expected to learn in one year. Expectations are set for each student based on individual performance for the previous two years. Across the state, about half of students typically meet or exceed their growth expectation. High growth is defined as a score of 60% or higher and having met expected growth.

► Amount of Growth for Students in the Lowest Achieving Group

Our School: 83.6%

Narrowing the achievement gap is widely recognized as one of the biggest challenges in public education. The lowest achieving group for CMS includes certain minority groups and those receiving free or reduced-price lunch. If lower-achieving students grow at a faster rate than better-achieving students, the achievement gap is narrowed. When the above percentage is higher than the Average Growth for the school (see Average Growth above), the school is closing the achievement gap.

► Positive Responses to Student Surveys

Our School: 51.4%

Student feedback is a subjective, but essential, component of the measure of our school's performance. We want all of our students to have a caring, supportive environment at school. This is a measure of the positive reaction from our students covering the areas of school safety, engagement and encouragement.

Gains in the past year were due in part to our strong focus on literacy. Students who lacked basic reading skills were given the opportunity to capture those skills and move forward. We strengthened our discipline and developed alternatives to suspension. As a result, we were able to cut student suspension days by more than half. We focused on building strong, positive relationships with our students.

We held Tuesday McClintock Family Nights sponsored by our partner, Christ Lutheran Church. Families were provided with transportation, meals and childcare to support the tutoring and parent classes. Our partnership also provided up to 25 tutors during the day, training for our staff, school supplies and a clothing closet for our students.

At McClintock, we understand that we need to teach the whole child and help remove barriers to learning if all of our children are to be successful. We know that in addition to a strong academic program, we must also pay attention to the social and emotional needs of our preteens and early teens. This year, we have begun a program to ensure that every student has multiple opportunities to master learning objectives. In addition, our teachers are studying the instructional strategies that work best for different students. Our new weekly Fun Friday hour helps students learn how to work and solve problems together and how to participate in the community.

We are looking forward to having another successful year and achieving even greater gains for our students.

Sincerely,
Pamela Espinosa
Principal

What is the School Progress Report?

In 2006, we introduced the Charlotte-Mecklenburg Schools Strategic Plan 2010 outlining our vision and strategy to educate our students to compete locally, nationally and internationally.

The plan outlines seven areas of concentration: high academic achievement; effective educators; adequate resources and facilities; safe and orderly schools; freedom and flexibility with accountability; world-class service, and strong parent and community connections.

In this report, you will notice how our school performed in the 2007-2008 school year compared to the stated 2010 goals. On page 3, you will also find an explanation of federal and state accountability measures with a specific emphasis on growth.

As educators and parents, we have a common goal of preparing our children to compete in an ever-growing global community. This goal requires constant dialogue between school and parents, so please feel free to contact the principal or any staff member at our school with your questions, concerns or suggestions.
