A Message from the Principal

To our West Charlotte High School family:

This is the first School Progress Report for West Charlotte High, part of our effort to keep families fully informed about our students' academic progress, our staff and our school environment.

First, I would like to mention that our senior class earned more than $4.6 million in scholarship money during the 2007-2008 school year—an outstanding achievement.

West Charlotte had a performance composite proficiency rate on the state End-of-Course tests of 61 percent. This represents a 32.6 percent increase from the 2006-2007 school year and a 64.9 percent increase over the last three years.

You will see how many of our students were proficient in five subjects where End-of-Course tests are given. However, we did not make Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP), the standard set for schools by the No Child Left Behind Act. West Charlotte is a diverse school with many targets to meet for AYP—15 in all, and we met 10 of them.

So what are we doing to improve our students' academic progress? We conducted a successful ninth-grade orientation program to prepare freshmen for high school. We are also continuing the Emerging Leaders program that targets rising ninth-graders to be leaders in our school. Our students are placed in End-of-Course classes based on student readiness and previous academic achievement.

Students have a full range of programs, such as Career Focus Learning Communities, Advanced Placement, International Baccalaureate and career and technical education courses. At West Charlotte, we are focused on student learning, strong teaching and rising achievement to prepare students for success in the global society.

CMS Accountability Measures

In this section, we are highlighting several key performance indicators for our school and its students.

► Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP)

Our school DID NOT make AYP (10 of 15 goals met)

The federal No Child Left Behind Act requires that every school make Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP). State test results are used to set AYP proficiency targets for every grade. Targets are set for the school as a whole, as well as for nine separate subgroups. The subgroups are: white, black, Hispanic, Native American, Asian, multiracial, economically disadvantaged students, students with limited English proficiency and students with disabilities. A school's attendance and graduation rates are also measured for AYP.

The subgroup measurements are intended to prevent an overall score from masking poor results by one or more subgroups. Because the number of subgroups can vary depending on a school's diversity, the number of targets varies also. Some schools may have only a few targets to meet; others may have as many as 41.

AYP is an all-or-nothing standard that says every target must be met. No Child Left Behind also requires that every student be proficient by the 2013-2014 school year.

For a more complete overview of AYP, visit www.dpi.state.nc.us/nclb/abcayp/overview/ayp

► ABC Designation

Our school's designation: No Recognition
(DID NOT meet growth expectations)

Proficiency: 61.0%

The North Carolina ABCs program was introduced more than a decade ago to better target school improvement efforts. Two basic measures determine a school's designation: the Average Growth of students (see below); and the Performance Composite, which measures how well students performed against a set standard of proficiency.

Schools are given one of seven designations (in descending order): Honor School of Excellence; School of Excellence; School of Distinction; School of Progress; No Recognition; Priority School; Low Performing.

For more information about ABCs, visit

<http://abcs.ncpublicschools.org/abcs>

► Average Growth

State Standard: 80% Our School: 83.2%

Each year, the state sets individual growth expectations for each student. A student is expected to perform as well, or better, on the End-of-Course (EOC) assessment for the current year as he or she did, on average, during the previous two years. The Average Growth is calculated by comparing actual performance versus expected performance and then averaging the difference across all students and all subjects. The score above reflects the combined growth rate of all of our students. A school classified as making expected growth would have a score of 80% or higher.

► Students Making or Exceeding a Year's Worth of Growth

State Standard: 60% Our School: 59.9%

This measurement assesses whether students have learned as much as they are expected to learn in one year. Expectations are set for each student based on individual performance for the previous two years. Across the state, about half of students typically meet or exceed their growth expectation. High growth is defined as a score of 60% or higher and having met expected growth.

► Adjusted Pass Rate on Advanced Placement (AP) Tests

Expectation: 100% Our School: 45.5%

AP tests are administered by the College Board and give students the opportunity to earn college credit. Some high school students are likely to pass AP tests, based on their performance in the Preliminary SAT (PSAT).

This measurement reflects the cumulative AP test success rate among those seniors expected to pass. It is important to note that all students are encouraged to take AP tests, but in order not to penalize schools for having high expectations for all students, all scores are not included in this measurement.

► Participation Rate in Weighted Courses

Expectation: 100% Our School: 89.0%

Students with the skills to be successful are defined as those on grade level when entering high school. We offer weighted courses to those students as a means of challenging them academically and encouraging in-depth study within a single subject. The proportion of students who started high school on grade level, and who take three or more weighted courses by the end of senior year, measures how much a school encourages students to push themselves.

► Participation Rate in Advanced Placement (AP) or International Baccalaureate (IB) Courses

Expectation: 100% Our School: NA

AP and IB courses are the most challenging programs available at high school. The International Baccalaureate is a global educational program recognized for its rigor. Some high school students are likely to be successful in AP courses, based on their performance in the Preliminary SAT (PSAT). This measures how many of these seniors have actually enrolled in AP and IB courses.

► Graduation Rate for Students who Enter 9th Grade

State Comparison: 70.2% Our School: 59.8%

Students completing kindergarten through 12th grade is a goal for everyone involved in education. We compare the number of students who start ninth grade with those who earn a diploma within four years, taking into account that some students transfer in from other schools and some transfer out of our school.

► SAT Rates and Results

Percentage of seniors taking the SAT:	Nation	45%
	State	63%
	Our School	48.8%

Average SAT Score:	Nation	1511
	State	1489
	Our School	1205

The SAT is a nationally used assessment of high-level math, reading and writing skills. It is used to assess college readiness, and the results are calculated by the state. We can compare our SAT scores to the state and national averages. (Data provided by the North Carolina Department of Public Instruction.)

► Positive Responses to Student Surveys

Our School: 70.0%

Student feedback is a subjective, but essential, component of the measure of our school's performance. We want all of our students to have a caring, supportive environment at school. This is a measure of the positive reaction from our students covering the areas of school safety, engagement and encouragement.

We have applied specific reading strategies for our students. In addition, teachers will receive professional development in differentiated instruction, a flexible teaching approach that adapts the curriculum to the individual. Another initiative allows students to bond with a teacher/advisor for mentoring and academic support. We also offer extended day tutorials. Finally, we will continue to encourage students to take responsibility for their learning and successes.

Last school year, we had very low staff turnover compared to previous years. Our faculty is strong, with many of our teachers highly qualified and experienced. Facilitators and teachers collaborate to help continue to raise our academic achievement levels.

I was one of 50 principals chosen last year to pilot a CMS initiative called Freedom and Flexibility with Accountability. This means that I have been given some additional autonomy to keep West Charlotte, and our students, moving forward.

I am confident we will continue to see an increase in student achievement. West Charlotte has a safe and orderly environment in which students and teachers treat each other with respect. Last school year, we received a safety audit rating of 100 percent.

We will all continue to work on raising achievement. We will offer an End-of-Course blitz toward the end of each semester, where our teachers provide after-school tutorials to help students master pertinent concepts and material.

Sincerely,
John W. Modest, Jr.
Principal

What is the School Progress Report?

In 2006, we introduced the Charlotte-Mecklenburg Schools Strategic Plan 2010 outlining our vision and strategy to educate our students to compete locally, nationally and internationally.

The plan outlines seven areas of concentration: high academic achievement; effective educators; adequate resources and facilities; safe and orderly schools; freedom and flexibility with accountability; world-class service, and strong parent and community connections.

In this report, you will notice how our school performed in the 2007-2008 school year compared to the stated 2010 goals. On page 3, you will also find an explanation of federal and state accountability measures with a specific emphasis on growth.

As educators and parents, we have a common goal of preparing our children to compete in an ever-growing global community. This goal requires constant dialogue between school and parents, so please feel free to contact the principal or any staff member at our school with your questions, concerns or suggestions.

REACH FURTHER.
