A Message from the Principal

Dear Hidden Valley Elementary School families:

This is the second School Progress Report for Hidden Valley Elementary. We are sending this to you so that you may be fully informed about our students' academic progress, our staff and our school environment.

On the End-of-Grade reading tests, 53.5 percent of our students demonstrated proficiency. Slightly more than half of our students in grades three through five were reading at or above grade level.

Our school made Expected Growth in reading and math overall and High Growth in third- and fifth-grade reading. This means that third- and fifth-grade students made more growth than expected in the 2008-2009 school year.

We just missed making Adequate Yearly Progress, the standard set for schools by the No Child Left Behind Act. We met 20 of our 21 goals, or 95.2 percent.

We have put a plan in place to build on the growth at Hidden Valley. First, a science lab will allow students to engage in hands-on experiments. We will also introduce Investigations, an inquiry-based approach to teaching and learning math. Our staff will meet twice-weekly to discuss student progress, plan meaningful and engaging lessons, analyze student work samples and organize small groups to target specific learning needs.

Staff members will regularly review data in order to make informed instructional decisions. They will also share their own proven teaching strategies as well as research new strategies that are being used successfully across the country with students of similar

CMS Accountability Measures

The learning of students in public education is measured in multiple ways. There are assessments given at regular intervals by CMS—tests that we use to measure how students are learning as the school year progresses. Other tests are required by the state and given once or twice a year, such as End-of-Course and End-of-Grade tests. Some of the state test results are also used to calculate district progress on the federal standard of Adequate Yearly Progress for each student. This page provides brief explanations of some of the measures and tests used in CMS.

► Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP)

Our school DID NOT make AYP
(20 of 21 goals met)

The federal No Child Left Behind Act requires that every school make Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP). AYP is an all-or-nothing standard: Every target must be met.

State test results are used to set AYP targets. There are separate targets for the school as a whole and for nine subgroups of students: white, black, Hispanic, Native American, Asian, multiracial, economically disadvantaged students, students with limited English proficiency and students with disabilities. Subgroups of students are measured separately so that an overall score for a class or a school does not mask poor results within a subgroup.

Some schools are more diverse than others, so the number of subgroups varies by school. Therefore, the number of AYP targets varies by school, too. Some schools may have only a few targets to meet; others may have the maximum, which is 41. School attendance and graduation rates are also measured for AYP.

For a more complete overview of AYP, visit www.dpi.state.nc.us/nclb/abcayp/overview/ayp

For details of AYP results for our school and its student groups, visit <http://ayp.ncpublicschools.org>

► ABC Designation

Our school's designation: School of Progress
(DID meet growth expectations)

Proficiency: 60.5%

The North Carolina ABCs program was introduced more than a decade ago to help schools improve. It uses two basic measures to assess a school's performance: the Average Growth of students (at right); and the Performance Composite, which measures how well students performed against a state-set standard of academic achievement.

Schools are given one of seven designations. In descending order, they are: Honor School of Excellence, School of Excellence, School of Distinction, School of Progress, No Recognition, Priority School, and Low Performing.

For more information about ABCs, visit <http://abcs.ncpublicschools.org/abcs>

► Average Growth

State Standard: 80%
Our School: 81.6%

Did our students meet the state's expectation for academic growth? Each student is expected to perform as well (or better) on the End-of-Grade assessment as he or she did, on average, during the previous two years. Average Growth for a school is calculated by comparing actual performance to expected performance and then averaging the difference across all students and all subjects. The score above reflects the combined growth rate of all of our students. To make expected growth, a school must have a score of 80% or higher.

► Students Making or Exceeding a Year's Worth of Growth

State Standard: 60%
Our School: 54.7%

Did our students learn as much as they were expected to learn this year? As described above, the state sets expectations for each student based on individual performance for the previous two years. Across the state, about half of students typically meet or exceed this growth expectation. To earn the high-growth designation, a school must meet the average-growth standard described above and also have more than 60% of its students make expected growth.

► Amount of Growth for Students in the Lowest Achieving Group

Our School: 82.2%

Are we helping our low achievers catch up? Historically, some poor and minority students have trailed their classmates in academic achievement. This is called the achievement gap, and closing it is one of the biggest challenges in public education. If the lower-achieving students at a school show academic growth at a faster rate than higher-achieving students, the achievement gap is narrowed. When the percentage for this measure is higher than the Average Growth for the school, the school is closing the achievement gap.

► Positive Responses to Multiple Student Survey Items

Our School's Results:	Safety	93%
	Encouragement	96%
	Engagement	96%

Do our students perceive this school as safe and welcoming? This measure is subjective—it is taken from a student survey.

demographic backgrounds. Our staff has been trained in the Sheltered Instruction Observation Protocol, which helps improve the learning of English language learners.

We have a strong and stable staff at Hidden Valley. We currently have 43 highly qualified teachers and 11 instructional assistants, 40 percent of whom hold advanced degrees. Several staff members are currently working toward National Board certification.

We provide numerous enrichment activities for our students, including chess club (culminating in an end-of-year championship), Math Olympiad, Honors Chorus, library club, Right Moves for Youth and Girl Scouts. Several students are also invited to participate in Camp Invention, a program designed to enrich math and science awareness.

Our partnership with the Kiwanis organization has led to the development of the Terrific Kids program, which recognizes students who make excellent choices and meet their goals.

I am confident that we will see continued growth at Hidden Valley during the 2009-2010 school year. Dedication from the staff, hard work from the students and support from the families and community will prove to be a combination for success.

Sincerely,
Sarika Pride

What is the School Progress Report?

In 2006, we introduced the Charlotte-Mecklenburg Schools Strategic Plan 2010 outlining our vision and strategy to educate our students to compete locally, nationally and internationally.

The plan outlines seven areas of concentration: high academic achievement; effective educators; adequate resources and facilities; safe and orderly schools; freedom and flexibility with accountability; world-class service, and strong parent and community connections. This report summarizes how our school performed in the 2008-09 school year in making progress on these seven goals. On page 3, you will also find an explanation of federal and state accountability measures.

Educators and parents have a common goal of preparing our children to compete in an ever-growing global community. Working together requires frequent dialogue between school and parents, so please feel free to contact the principal or any staff member at our school.
