

Tyler Ream
Area Superintendent – Central Elementary Zone

Tyler Ream is the area superintendent for the Central Elementary Zone. Ream was previously area superintendent for the South Learning Community and chief of staff for Charlotte-Mecklenburg Schools.

Ream was born and raised in Los Angeles, California. A graduate of Concordia University, Irvine and Pepperdine University, Tyler began his educational career in 2000 as a non-credentialed second-grade teacher in the Santa Ana Unified School District. In 2001, Tyler began with the Tustin Unified School District and taught fourth and fifth grade for four years.

In 2004, he was recognized as the District Teacher of the Year and later that year he became principal of Marjorie Veeh Elementary. Tyler spent three years as a principal at Veeh before moving to CMS in July of 2007.

Locally, Tyler serves on several community boards, including the Arts and Science Council, Alexander Youth Network, the Ronald McDonald House of Charlotte, and the Charlotte-Mecklenburg Schools Foundation. He is a recent graduate of Leadership Charlotte's Class 30 and is in the process of completing his doctorate at the University of Southern California. Tyler lives in the city of Charlotte with his wife Thi and son Rylan.
