Overview

Engagement is the sense of connection that individuals have with their profession in general and with their current jobs in particular. Several factors have an impact on staff members’ level of engagement. Aspects of the working environment such as relationships with school administration, colleagues, students, and parents; the physical work conditions; shared values; policy considerations and implementation; support for personal development and growth; prior preparation; perceptions of personal relevance; and satisfaction all impact engagement.

This study was conducted to accomplish three goals:

1. Measure the level of engagement among all CMS employees.
2. Identify groups of employees who are less engaged.
3. Identify areas where engagement can be improved.

With this information we hope to improve conditions so that all staff at CMS are fully engaged in their profession. Fully engaged staff are key to improving overall productivity and improve the quality of education and services provided by CMS to students, parents and staff. Because more engaged individuals likely completed the survey, these data may overestimate engagement among employees district-wide.
Study Design

The survey was designed with input from nearly 200 CMS employees during two-days of focus groups. The focus groups were designed to have representation from every CMS school, department, and job category.

All employees of CMS were invited to complete the engagement survey. A likert-type scale was used for survey items. The scale range was 1 = Strongly Disagree to 5 = Strongly Agree. The survey consisted of three parts:

Engagement Scale was comprised of eight items that were specifically designed to measure each staff members’ level of engagement. Based on the average of these questions, an “Engagement Score” was computed for each respondent. Scores were classified: Not Engaged (less than 3.5), Engaged (3.5 to 4.5), and Highly Engaged (4.5 to 5.0).

Several factors influence engagement. The survey included 7 categories of items that were designed to measure a range of factors that influence employee engagement. Many of these items were generated as a result of 10 employee focus groups held in September.

- Shared Values
- Leadership
- Communication
- Feedback and Recognition
- Work Environment
- Career Growth and Training Opportunities
- Quality Service

Respondent background items included work location, position, job classification, race/ethnicity as well as gender.
This study was conducted as a census survey. That is, all employees were invited and encouraged to participate thereby giving all CMS staff members an opportunity to express their views. If all staff members participate, a complete picture of engagement results and survey data will be highly accurate.

However, 100% participation is unlikely and we have a response rate of 53%. Whether an individual completes the survey is related to his/her level of engagement. Those individuals who decline to participate generally likely include staff members who are less engaged. Therefore, low levels of participation:

- indicates low staff engagement in general, and
- survey findings may overestimate the level of engagement.

The survey was administered online. Paper versions of the survey were made available for employees without computer access.
Out of the 17,422 delivered email invitations and the option to complete a paper survey, 9,003 staff members completed the survey to provide an overall completion rate of 52%. There were 243 incomplete responses. The overall participation rate was 53% based on all 9,236 survey participants.

3. Engagement Score

[Diagram showing a scale from 1 to 5 with categories Not Engaged, Engaged, and Highly Engaged, and a score of 3.5 indicated.]
Overall Engagement

Ratings on the eight engagement scale items were averaged to provide an engagement score for each respondent. Scores were classified according to three levels: Not Engaged (less than 3.5), Engaged (3.5 to 4.5), and Highly Engaged (4.5 to 5.0). Most individuals scored either highly engaged (29%) or engaged (47%). While 24% (n=2230) of respondents registered as not engaged. The median engagement score was 4.0 and ranged from 1.0 to 5.0.
Engagement Items

I am proud to work for CMS.

Working for a public school system gives me a feeling of accomplishment.

I am satisfied with the work that I do.

My current duties and work assignments are interesting.

I am motivated to contribute more than what is expected of me.

I am hopeful of my professional growth and long-term career opportunities at CMS.

I would feel comfortable referring a good friend to work for CMS.

I enjoy working for my principal or direct supervisor.

Where Should Efforts be Focused to Improve Employee Engagement?

Fifty-one items examined aspects of the school/workplace environment to find areas of focus to help improve engagement. Each area was rated on a five-point scale, with higher values indicating a stronger level of agreement.

The relationship between each employee’s ratings and their overall engagement score was also examined. To do this, correlation coefficients were computed between the engagement scores and each school/workplace item. A correlation coefficient is a measure of how strongly two items are related to each other. The value can range from -1.0 to 0 to +1.0. The closer to ±1.0, the stronger the relationship.

Based on the combination of ratings and correlation with engagement, the areas were classified as high vs. low in ratings and high vs. low in relation to engagement. The relation to engagement is based on a median rating to engagement of 0.46.

Those areas that were rated low, but had a strong correlation with engagement (red) should receive primary focus. The secondary area contains items that had high ratings and a strong correlation with engagement (yellow).

Conclusions

Highlights:
- More than 50% of all employees participated in the survey with representation of more than 50% of each respondent group with the exception of School Support Staff.
- Seventy-six percent of employees who responded are engaged or highly engaged in their work in CMS.
- Shared values (3.8) was the strongest factor that influences engagement, with communication (3.34) and feedback and recognition (3.29) being the two weakest factors.
- Generally, the majority of employees rated items referencing their workplace or school more positively than items referencing the district office.
- Items about district office communicating clear direction, expectations, decision-making processes and explanation were the lowest survey items.
